OAKWOOD DEVELOPMENT GROUP TO LEVERAGE THE SATCHER GROUP'S GOVERNMENT & COMMUNITY AFFAIRS EXPERTISE

ATLANTA (September 15, 2015) – Oakwood Development Group (Oakwood) has announced a strategic partnership with The Satcher Group (SG) to provide government relations and business development counsel. Oakwood and SG will collaborate on a wide range of real estate development projects in Atlanta and throughout the United States.

"Having insight about a community's history, its leaders and future plans is a critical element of the real estate development process. I am pleased to have The Satcher Group as a partner to leverage their highly regarded public policy and business development expertise," said Kelly King, Oakwood's President.

Founded in 2011 by CEO Daraka Satcher, SG has a successful track record of working with organizations and institutions seeking to strengthen their government and public engagement strategies. The firm is recognized for its creative approach to business challenges and its commitment to continuous improvement.

Satcher's experience includes leadership stints at the U. S. Department of Commerce and with current and former members of Congress. He is also actively involved with several boards including the Urban League of Greater Atlanta, Georgia District Export Council and the Ghana International Chamber of Commerce. Additionally, Satcher is a partner with the Pendleton Group, whose recognized expertise in economic development consulting will also be an asset to this alliance.

"We look forward to working closely with Oakwood as it establishes its presence in Atlanta's real estate development community. We're excited to collaborate and offer counsel on a wide range of projects that seek to strengthen a city we love," said Daraka Satcher.
